THE MUNICIPAL FLAG

PROGRESS REPORTED REGARDING GLENDALE'S NEW FLAG AND POLE

Evidently we are really going to have a municipal flag pole in Glendale. To the items published in very recent issues of the Evening News we are now able to add a good deal more definite information which has been secured by Dr. Henry R. Harrower, who suggested this matter a number of months ago.

The obvious place for such a flag pole is at the intersection of Brand and Broadway, where the traffic sign is now placed. This is legally under the jurisdiction of the Pacific Electric railway, as it is between their tracks, and so information was secured from Mr. E. C. Johnson, superintendent of maintenance. He informed the doctor that there would be no objection provided the pole was such that the flag could not foul the wires. He also stated that there would probably be a small expense in the installation, since the road bed at the place is maintained by the railroad.

No word has yet been heard from the city authorities, but we feel confident that they will gladly co-operate in materializing this patriotic dream. There should be no difficulty about having the patrolman usually on duty in this vicinity raise and lower the flag each day at a suitable hour. The flag having been secured from Miss Gracia Mosler—it is a lovely big flag, eight by twelve feet, with 48 splendid stars and thirteen broad stripes—as mentioned in yesterday's issue, the next thing is to get the pole. This matter has also been looked into by Dr. Harrower, who reports that the H. R. Boynton Company, who make a specialty of steel flag staffs, offers a 75-foot pole, with ball for $160, or about $200 for a 100-foot pole. The exact length has yet to be determined.

The next thing is to "get the money," and it is now up to the patriotic citizens of Glendale. The News will be glad to receive further donations for the flag pole fund, and it should not be long before Glendale can show a respectable flag and pole. Checks should be made payable to the Evening News or to Dr. Henry R. Harrower and marked "Flag Pole Fund."

BABY MARIE OSBORN'S BIRTHDAY

A surprise birthday luncheon was given on Monday, November 5, for Baby Marie Osborn, at 131 South Louise street, where she and her parents have recently come to make their home for the winter. Baby Marie was six years old, and enjoyed her beautiful, big birthday cake as much as any little girl could. The rooms were lovely with decorations of chrysanthemums. The guests were, besides the little guest of honor, Mrs. Clara Osborn, little Marie's grandmother; Mrs. Byen, Mrs. H. S. Bohe, Mrs. Hannebaum and Mr. Leon Osborn, the little girl's father. The little "movie" star was delighted with the pretty surprise celebration, and later cut the big chocolate cake with much ceremony at the family dinner in the evening.

CALL AND SEE THEM

As an evidence that the ladies of the Red Cross are doing great things in the way of knitting and sewing, the editor of the Evening News will report what he saw in the workroom this forenoon at 318 South Brand. These articles represent one month's work done under the direction of Mrs. Carter, chairman of the knitting department, and Mrs. Ellis, chairman of the hospital garments: Sixty-seven sweaters, 122 mufflers, 129 pairs of wristlets, 37 pairs of socks, 15 wash cloths, 34 wipes, 2 helmets, 15 pairs of pajamas, 14 undershirts, 25 surgical aprons, 24 bath robes, 5 pairs bed socks, 5 dozen handkerchief substitutes, 1 dozen napkin substitutes. Donation of towel, bath robe and one surgical cap and apron.

YULETIDE HONOR LIST

The honor list of names so far sent in for contributions to the Defenders' Yuletide Fund follows: Mrs. E. U. Emery, Mr. Alexander, Mrs. Alexander Mitchell, Mrs. Stephen C. Packer, Mrs. George Conaught, Mrs. C. E. McPeck, Mr. O. Spencer, Mrs. V. A. Bloor, Miss E. Richardson, Mrs. F. H. Lowe, Mr. F. H. Lowe, Mrs. C. W. Burket, Mrs. Henry Braun, Mr. Edwin Van Alstine, Mrs. Edwin Van Alstine, Mr. Mattison B. Jones, Mr. Charles Chandler, Mr. L. G. Scovern, Mrs. Frank Chambers, Mr. H. A. Brooks, Mr. Edward M. Lee, Mr. Stephen C. Packer, Mr. J. G. Hunchberger, Mr. I. E. Weaver, Mrs. I. E. Weaver and Mrs. Julius Kranz.

THE DRIVE DINNER

FORTY RED CROSS DRIVE COMMITTEEMEN PLAN FOR GREAT $10,000 DRIVE

In the wildest of intense enthusiasm forty men, under the leadership of J. H. Braly, chairman of the Glendale chapter of the American Red Cross, and T. F. McCrea, vice chairman of the chapter, assembled in the social room of the Methodist church and partook of a substantial dinner prepared by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist church.

After having gathered around the tables, Chairman Braly announced that Rev. McCrea would invoke the divine blessing.

There seemed to be signs of discouragement on the faces of a few of the guests, but all appearance of discouragement was dispelled when it was announced that W. K. Parkinson, of 915 Mountain street, North Glendale, had given a check for $500 to apply on the Red Cross fund, and another wave of enthusiasm struck the banqueters when a messenger entered the room with a letter from John Brockman, of Kenneth road, conveying the good news that at least $500 would be subscribed by him.

Chairman Braly made a brief address, giving the history of the local chapter of the Red Cross. Following this, Rev. T. F. McCrea spoke on the subject of what the women are doing, and read a report of their work, the same being published in the Evening News last Saturday.

The committeemen then reported progress today and found that $235 per month had already been pledged. The big $10,000 subscription drive is on today. The names of the donors will be published in the Evening News tomorrow afternoon.

Persons present at the dinner Monday evening were: Harry L. Howe, J. J. Davis, James W. Pearson, Roy L. Kent, J. E. Peters, Fred H. Roberts, L. B. McClellan, Calvin Whitling, J. H. Franklin, M. P. Harrison, Albert G. Cornwell, C. D. Lusby, Geo. U. Moyses, Ezra F. Parker, R. D. White, Alex. Mitchell, W. W. McElroy, A. T. Cowan, J. H. Braly, E. U. Emery, Ed M. Lee, A. Jud Shepard, W. R. Phelon, C. D. Wilde, Henry R. Harrower, LeRoy W. Bosserman, Ralph W. Lusby, R. M. Yost, W. B. Kirk, F. J. Kuntzner, Spencer Robinson, F. H. Vesper, W. S. Rattray, Eska Wilson, George H. Bentley, Harry W. Chase, Hubert F. Knox, Thos. D. Ogg, C. L. Peckham, C. W. Ingle and C. O. Pulliam.

GLENDALE CITIZEN SABBAGED

Charles E. Smith, of the Smith Cyclery, at 710 Broadway, was attacked by an unknown assailant at the corner of Sixth and Brand at 11 o'clock Sunday night and narrowly escaped a very serious injury. He did not regain consciousness for several hours after being rushed to the Glendale Sanitarium. He had just alighted from a north-bound Los Angeles car, on which he was returning from the city with a friend, Mr. Amos Sullivan, of 343 South Brand boulevard. As Mr. Smith reached the sidewalk he half turned to look after the car and was struck a heavy blow on the top and back of the head by some one, who must have leaped from the shadows of the building. He fell forward, cutting his lips on the pavement. The alarm was given by some person on the car who saw him fall and either saw or surmised the blow for the cry was given, "He's been hit!" The car immediately backed up and the unconscious man was taken aboard, but no sign of the assailant could be discovered. At Broadway and Brand Officer Lampert was summoned, and, with Mr. Sullivan, took the victim to the sanitarium, where he was examined and finally brought to consciousness. Officer Lampert and Mr. Sullivan then returned with him to his own home, which is at the corner where he was struck down. Mr. Smith's wife and three small children are at present in the East, and Mr. Sullivan remained the night with the patient, who recovered sufficiently by morning to go about his duties, though he was thoroughly sore and stiff, as well as suffering from the pain of the wound on his head. Mr. Smith says he hasn't an enemy in the world that he knows about, and the motive of the deed, it seems evident was robbery. Perhaps in nervousness over the contemplated act the attacker struck sooner than he had intended, while help was still within reach. At any rate, Mr. Smith is most fortunate in the outcome of the episode.

Mr. F. W. Anderson, who has for the past year and a half been in Lowell, Ariz., is expected back to Glendale this afternoon, and will join his family at their present residence at 503 West Third street.

REAFFIRMS OPEN DOOR TO CHINA

SECRETARY OF STATE LANSING AND COUNT ISHII OF JAPANESE MISSION SIGN AGREEMENT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, November 6.—America and Japan have entered into a formal agreement reaffirming the open door policy in China and recognizing Japan's special interest in that country. This momentous pact between Sec. Lansing and Count Ishii of the Japanese Mission will go down in history as one of the great developments of the war. In announcing this agreement Sec. Lansing indicated that it would entirely remove the increasingly critical developments between the two countries. The pact recognizes Japan's special interest in China; avows China's sovereignty unimpaired; provides against discrimination against the trade of any nation; denies the intention of infringing China's territorial integrity; reaffirms the policy of the open door, and avows opposition to acquisition by any government.

RUSSIAN WAR MINISTER DISCHARGED

RUMORS THAT JERKHEDSKY MADE PEACE OFFER TO GERMANY CAUSE OF HIS REMOVAL

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PETROGRAD, November 6.—Because it was rumored that he had made a tentative peace offer to Germany, Minister of War Jerkhedsky was removed from office today. Jermanikowsky succeeds him.

BREAK TAGLIAMENTO LINE

GERMANS ARE MASSING NUMBERS OF TROOPS FOR BIG DRIVE THROUGH BREACHES IN ITALIAN LINE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, November 6.—The Austro-German forces have broken the Italian Tagliamento River line in two places near Cadriopo and Pinzano. Great masses of troops are concentrating for the great drive through the breaches. Cadorna is preparing to fall back to his second defense line. The Italians are retreating along a 93 mile front.

SEE FAVORABLE SIGNS FOR MITCHEL

VOTE AT NOON TODAY INDICATES SOME HOPE FOR REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE IN MAYORALTY RACE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

NEW YORK, November 6.—Fusion leaders claim to see favorable signs for the re-election of Mitchel, is the report of the vote cast up to noon today in the mayoralty election. The odds are three to one in favor of Hylan although the socialists are making a great race.

TO BURY SAMMIES KILLED IN BATTLE

AMERICAN SOLDIERS IN FRANCE BOIL WITH IMPATIENCE TO REVENGE SLAIN COMRADES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMIES IN FRANCE, November 6.—Preparations are being made to bury in hallowed soil the first American soldiers who died in active service in France in the war to make the world safe for democracy. With the men in graves, in hospitals and in German prison camps, their comrades are making ready for battle, to sustain the best traditions of the American army.

Overwhelmed by 200 Boches to a little band of about 30 Sammies they fought until numbers smothered them. The American army in France is boiling with impatience for revenge.

HAIG SUCCEEDS IN WEST

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, November 6.—Haig struck another tremendous blow at the German lines around Passchendaele and reports satisfactory progress.

BERLIN REPORTS SUCCESS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

BERLIN, November 6.—We have won the Tagliamento line, official reports say. The Italians are retreating between the Mountains and the sea.

CHILDREN'S RELIEF IN FRANCE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, November 6.—Children's relief in France by the American Red Cross now includes a campaign against tuberculosis and children's diseases. A children's hospital has also been opened at Toul by the Yankee nurses.

FROM WAR ZONE

MRS. R. C. NEWTON IN RECEIPT OF LETTER FROM WELLINGTON RUPP

Mrs. R. C. Newton, of 308 Belmont street, is in receipt of the following letter, which explains itself:

R. M. S. Saxonia,
At Sea, October 2, 1917.
Dear Aunt Rae:

Well, we are merrily on our way to get Kaiser Bill, but the chances are all in his favor now because we have not picked up our convoy of battleships yet, as we are not in what is called the submarine zone.

So far we have had perfect weather, and I have been sleeping like a log. We are traveling first class, and three of us from California are in one stateroom. The grub is the usual ship grub, first class—so you see we are feeding good for soldiers. Of course, we are now cadets and get paid as such, but being enlisted as privates, the government could have sent us as steerage, as other privates go.

Besides ourselves, there is a regiment of infantry and a number of officers, among them four major generals, the highest rank in our army at present. Pershing, already in France, is a major general, you know.

The infantrymen sleep in steerage, and I feel sorry for them, because many are seasick now. I have felt odd a couple of times, but other than that the sea has not affected me.

I have volunteered for a job on our gun crew, so may get a shot at Kultur even before I get my wings again. Of course, we have our regular gun crew, but some will be injured, and we will take their places. I have had some experience with artillery, you know.

Also, our detachment of aviators do all of the lookout work, i.e. watching for submarines from the bridge, and I am going to get my shift while we are passing through the submarine zone. Each of us takes a two-hour shift in our turn according to the alphabet and as I have already done one shift my next will come just about as we are in the zone. I am glad that because the responsibility is greater and I believe I can do as well as anyone.

So far the thoughts of being sunk have not worried me a bit, but the last two days I am going to keep on the alert as much as possible. I have great confidence, though, that we will never be bothered during our trip. It is a great game and I really believe I like it.

Two fellows on board are very much afraid but the rest take it as calmly as though we were crossing on a ferry. They know this is a "safety first" picnic compared with what is yet to come.

Yesterday the officer on the bridge told the lookout that, if it did not cloud up to obscure the beautiful full moon we would never reach England. Sounds nice doesn't it? Since then the fellows have not looked so sour when it clouds up.

I have been doing a great deal of reading in books from the ship's library, and it seems good to be able to have plenty of time to read. This is about the first time I have read any fiction since I began my college work. You will find my letter filled with "I's," but there is no other way to tell about the happenings here. So you will not think I am getting egotistical and bragging will you? I really feel more insignificant every day when I see all of these fine fellows.

RED CROSS APPOINTS COUNCIL

The Red Cross War Council announces the appointment of Franklin W. M. Cutcheon, a member of the law firm of Byrne, Cutcheon & Taylor, of New York City, as secretary-general of the Red Cross. He will act as director of records and international interests, and will serve without pay. Mr. Cutcheon will advise the Red Cross on questions which involve international relationships. His department will have charge of matters pertaining to the relief of American and allied prisoners of war in the hands of the Central powers. It will also have custody of the corporate records of the American Red Cross; will be responsible for the protection of the Red Cross emblem from advertising or other unwarranted uses, and will have supervision of the bureau of communication, division of personnel, cables, buildings, etc.

Mr. Cutcheon has been in active service in the American Red Cross for some time. Since joining the Red Cross staff he has assisted in the work of organizing the bureau of information of casualties, and has served as acting director general of military relief and as counselor to the War Council.

SERVICE FLAGS

BANNERS DISPLAYED IN MANY HOMES TO HONOR BOYS WHO HAVE GONE

The service flag floats in Glendale. In many homes this splendid red, white and blue banner is displayed, with a star for every boy who is now in the service of his country, and on Monday morning the Third street school held an impressive service, with which a beautiful flag with two stars was dedicated to the honor of two teachers who have "joined the colors." Norman C. Whytock, of the New York Infantry at Spartansburg, S. C., and Ed Sadler, of the 117th Engineers, Company F, now on the way to France. This flag is 24 by 36 inches and was made by the pupils of B-8 II, of which class Mr. Whytock was class teacher last year.

The program opened with the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," following which an honor roll was read, giving the names of those now in the service of their country who are members of the immediate families of children in the Intermediate school. There were 35 names, all those of brothers, with the exception of one father, a record to which the school will continue to point with pride. "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean," was next sung, and two readings were then given by children of the school. "The Man Without a Country" was recited by Paul Hutchinson, and "My Flag and Your Flag," by Doris Packer. The service flag was then presented by Paul Haig, representing the B 8 II class. Superintendent White receiving the emblem with appropriate remarks on behalf of the school. Mr. White has an especially deep interest in the two young men in whose honor the two stars on this flag appear, since they were not only teachers under him, but were previously his pupils when he was a teacher in the Glendale Union high school.

Mr. Mattison B. Jones, the speaker of the day, now took the platform and gave an exceptionally interesting talk, telling his young audience of many noteworthy experiences as a member of the local exemption board. He also explained the plan of the National Defenders' Yuletide Remembrance, to give every boy in the service a Christmas remembrance. Mr. Jones' talk was strong in its appeal, and that its message reached the children was shortly proved by an extraordinary occurrence. Superintendent White announced at its close that he would consider a contribution of 10 cents each, for the cause of Christmas presents, multiplied by the number of children in each class, as a 100 per cent contribution from that class. He also added that he would give as a prize to swell the sum $1 each to the first two classes showing this perfect score and 50 cents to the third. The assembly closed at 10:30 and at 2:30 Superintendent White was called on to disburse the $2, followed the next morning by the remaining 50 cents. While Mr. White is a patriotic man, he is rather glad that he placed certain limitations in this matter of personal financial sponsoring of the loyalty of his school, which appears to exceed 100 per cent on every count when put to the test.

The meeting closed with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" and the salute to the flag. Mr. and Mrs. Whytock and Mrs. Sadler, parents of the two boys honored by the stars on the Intermediate school flag, were all present at this ceremonial.

In the long list of boys who have already thus been honored here in Glendale with the display of service flags at their homes are some exceptional cases worthy of note. At the

THE COMMUNITY DAILY

In the days to come there will be many mentions made in the Evening News that will be of interest to every resident of the community. There will be a list of the names of all the members of the Red Cross chapter of this city published in the near future. In later editions of the Evening News the names of all the young men who have gone from Glendale to serve their country will be published. Copies of these papers will be wanted in many homes. Other valuable information concerning the boys who have gone to the front will be published. Persons who are now subscribers for the Evening News should suggest to their neighbors the importance of having the community daily come to their home regularly.

AN AMERICAN'S WAY

Far be it from civilized nations to feel any desire to wrest from Germany the ugly fame of having been the first to employ the inhumane horrors of poisonous gasses in the conduct of modern war. The entire surprise with which the British army received the first such attack when it was launched in Flanders shows clearly enough how remote the method was from the minds of the Allies. But evidence has just been produced which gives quite acceptable proof that one of the very first schemes for the use of gas in warfare must be traced to the inventive mind of an American. It was offered to the War Department by its originator, C. O. Glover of Salt Fork, Okla., as early as April, 1911. The Transcript has seen the letter sent by a major of the Ordnance Bureau, recognizing the plans of this inventor but refusing to express any desire to study them further.

Now as Mr. Glover's particular idea was developed, there was no humanitarian reason why it should not have been given every consideration, whatever scientific doubts the bureau may have entertained of it. The American's conception of the use of gas contemplated it as a weapon strictly defensive. It proposed the laying of gas fields, supplied by pipe lines, which, in time of attack, would float obstructive clouds of mildly asphyxiating or anaesthetizing vapors. With the Mexican troubles then very rife, Mr. Glover had the plan in mind as a means of defense along our Southern Border. It is stimulating to think, however, what a great thing it would have been if France had had ready some such gas fields as these to interpose against the first awful advance of the trespassing Germans in 1914. And their use in this way all will admit would have been entirely fair. As it was, however, the Ordnance Bureau coolly rejected the first inkling of a device to which in various guises a thousand scientists have now given closest attention. Not so the Germans. Inside of a month Glover was cautiously approached by men who spent weeks in worming the plan from him, and who he is now convinced were secret agents of Germany. Was this the inception of the first use as, cruelly changed in its working, it was ultimately to be employed by the Germans on the fields of Flanders? Boston Transcript.

MEDICAL SUPPLIES SCARE IN RUSSIA

Russia is almost entirely dependent upon the allies for medical supplies for her hospital and convalescent camps, according to a report of Dr. Frank Billings, recently appointed head of the American Red Cross commission to Russia. In Dr. Billings' cable came the startling information that the hospitals at the Russian front are almost devoid of everything but vaccines.

In response to Dr. Billings' appeal, the Red Cross headquarters has dispatched a $40,000 shipment of field operation kits, collapsible operating tables, syringes, needles, adhesive tape, catgut, rubber goods, etc. In addition to these articles, 964 kilograms of medicines was included. The shipment brings the total value of supplies sent to Russia for the use of the American hospital contingents up to $400,000. In addition to this latest Red Cross shipment, Dr. Billings hopes to import by courier from Japan and China some vaccines and other necessities that are obtainable in those countries.

The way to cordial relations and close co-operation between the American Red Cross and the Russian army and relief organization has already been paved by the Red Cross commission there. The hearty welcome given to Dr. Billings and his fellow commissioners by officials and populace indicate that Russia is eager to get to grasp the hand of the great American war relief society.

WILSON'S GOOD LUCK

"President Wilson is particularly fortunate in the present crisis," says the Boston Transcript. "Unlike Lincoln he has no hostile political party to add to his burdens. Everyone familiar with the history of the Civil War period will recognize the difference in having a minority party led by such men as Horatio Seymour, Clement L. Vallandigham and Jesse D. Bright, whose activities would have been disastrous to the cause of the Union, and in having a minority party under the leadership of Charles E. Hughes; William Howard Taft, Theodore Roosevelt and Henry Cabot Lodge, whose every effort has been exerted in upholding and supporting the Administration."

THE INTERNATIONAL WEB

Germany is the true practitioner of internationalism. Her spy system knows neither friend nor foe. Her plottings cover the globe. The arrest in Paris of Bolo Pasha, on important information received from the United States, reveals once more the intricacy and the extent of German intrigues. Belligerents are attacked through neutrals, neutrals themselves are plotted against; everywhere the web of lying, of fraud, of murder, is spread for its victims. Bolo Pasha was apparently subsidized with German money for the purpose of promoting peace talk, which just now is Germany's especial aim. It suits her better than deeds of violence, though of these there is no lack. Fortunately the Allies understand at last what they have to fight and are working together to disclose and make ineffective the kind of crime that passes among Germans for diplomacy. Thus the State Department disclosures have uncovered many serpentine activities which have hitherto been only suspected. In view of the news from Paris it is reasonably safe to conclude that the full story is not told yet. From Argentina to the United States, and from Sweden to China, the Zeppelins of corruption have been dropping their bombs.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

CRUSH THEM BOTH

It is no less important to crush treason at home than it is to fight Germans abroad. The German U-boat and the American disloyalist serve the same master and are engaged in the same task.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

HARD TIMES PARTY

On Friday evening the ladies of the Jolly Thirteen Club gave a "hard times" party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Reed, 700 West Ninth street, which was in reality two parties in one. Besides the 14 couples who appeared in a variety of clever "hard times" costumes, about ten children, all dressed in Halloween costumes, were entertained in another part of the house with the merry games of the season. Chrysanthemums were the flowers used in decorating. Mrs. W. Gibson won the first prize for the most original costume, with her realistic makeup as a Gypsy and Mr. Frank Muhleman came first among the men, his high boots and knickerbockers setting off his chosen personality of old-time riding master in very clever "movie star" fashion. Each member of the club brought her lunch box and refreshments were served in picnic style. Later the whole company, including the little folks, were entertained with a very pleasing program, which included two songs by Mrs. J. D. Roach and a beautiful dance by Marie Hearnshaw. At the close of the evening the ladies and gentlemen danced an old-fashioned Virginia reel, and the party broke up at midnight with memories of a happy evening.

THE BIG DRIVE

The Epworth League Big Drive is on this week. The drive is a unique and interesting series of services under the auspices of the Epworth Leagues of Glendale, Tropic, Casa Verdugo and Eagle Rock. The meetings are being held in the First Methodist Episcopal church.

Last evening a large company of young people, representing the various organizations, met for a social evening. The occasion showed that red-blooded young people know how to have a good time with hearty, wholesome fun. The program for the week is an interesting one.

Tuesday, November 6, 7:30 p. m.—Leaders, "Laggards and Loyalty." Rev. W. L. Y. Davis of Los Angeles. Cornet solo, David Moneton. Duet, Margaret Lusby, Eva Thede.

Wednesday, November 7, 7:30 p. m.—"The Faroff Battle Line." University of Southern California Student Volunteers. "Your Bit." Horace Whiteman, Alhambra.

Thursday, November 8, 7:30 p. m.—"Digging In." Rev. Brownley Oxman, Los Angeles. Whistling solo, Miss Eva Green. Solo, Mr. George Lyons.

Friday, November 9, 7:30 p. m.—"Going Over the Top." Rev. Walter C. Buckner, Pomona. Quartet, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Jones and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Clark.

On Sunday morning last the Bible school of the First Methodist church held a combination rally, graduation and go to Sunday school day. At the regular school hour the assembly was held in the spacious auditorium of the church. A program showing the work of the various departments was carried out. There were also special musical and other numbers.

In connection with this program a very interesting event occurred. Mr. T. W. Watson, who for ten years past has been the faithful and efficient school superintendent, some time ago felt compelled, on account of pressure of the City Manager's office and his health, to resign from the superintendency of the Sunday school. At the recent election of officers Mr. A. W. Tower was elected to fill his place. On Sunday morning the school, through the pastor, presented Mr. Watson with a beautiful and valuable Bible. In a brief speech of presentation the Rev. Snudden thanked Mr. Watson on behalf of the school for his years of service and his untiring efforts, as chairman of the building committee, in carrying forward the new church enterprise.

Sunday was a great day with the rapidly growing First church. In Bible school, Epworth League and church services the attendance was large and enthusiastic. The special musical numbers by the choir were a prominent part of the services. The great fifty-voice chorus in the evening thrilled the large congregation with its swelling streams of music. Next week the church is planning to carry on meetings for men and boys. The following week will be mothers' and daughters' week.

NEW THOUGHT

"Truth is the most sacred thing in the universe, and the quest for truth is the sacred mission of mankind. He is most alive who is ever seeking truth. Know the truth and it shall make you free. But just as the engine has most power and freedom when restrained by the rails, so you and I are most free when following some fundamental truths."

"From our Bible reading in the twenty-seventh chapter of Acts we learn that in the shipwreck four anchors were cast into the deep. What are four fundamental truths or anchors of the Christian's life? Not what are four doctrines of any creed, but four everyday principles to live by."

If New York were bombarded from the air by the enemy six nights out of eight, it would understand better the intense feeling of France and Great Britain in prosecuting the war against Germany. If night after night helpless women and children were killed in the streets of this city by German bombs, our pacifists would not be so eager for a Kaiser peace, and disloyalty, masked as high morality, would find fewer champions.—New York World.

"First, is the anchor of an active belief in Almighty God, or good. Nothing new, you say, in this. But have you this active belief in the good; this vital grip on the soul of the good, and are you living according to it? Maybe some day, when we get away from our intellectuality and get a childlike faith in God, we may be able to sense that Almighty, encompassing good."

Second, is the anchor of an active belief in self, as the product of the handiwork of God. We believe that we are a part of the God, and therefore must believe in that God within. The strong man is he who not only believes in God, but in himself. We each have a contribution to make to life, and he who, with a grim purpose, in spite of criticism and ridicule, goes forward believing in himself, is he who really succeeds. Rely on the God within yourself.

"Third, is the anchor of an active belief in a heavenly life. The old view of a place beyond the river is comforting, but more glorious is the view that heaven is all about us; that state of harmony that can be ours when we live according to law. We need this view as much as the other. We pride ourselves on our advanced religion. We drive the devil out of our theology, but yet often act like one in our daily lives. Our new thought must be true thought, and it is not true thought until acted out. We can't prove logically that there is another life, but the noble aspirations, the yearnings that do not find gratification in this life, prove a life hereafter. We need a belief in a heavenly life here and now as well as then."

"Fourth, is the anchor of an active belief in our present duty, a strong belief in our daily task. Emerson says, 'Every man's task is his life preserver.' Thank God we have a duty to be done, whether we want to do it or not. It depends on how we see our situation. Are you living in a prison or a world of opportunity?"

"The noblest life is the believing life. Have a few vital beliefs: God, yourself, heaven and duty. Hold fast to the precepts of Christian truth." Dr. Pfeiffer will conduct all the Sunday evening services for the month of November.

Mrs. C. R. Carmack sang "A Prayer," the words by Markham, accompanied by Miss Ruth Williams.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH MEETINGS

A number have been added already to the membership of the Christian church in the beginning of the series of special meetings. Rev. Clifford A. Cole has announced some sermons for the week that will no doubt draw large crowds. Tonight he will speak on the subject, "How to Get Married," a topic that promises some very interesting and practical things and will be heard to the profit of many of us. Tomorrow night will be given over to the young people in a special way. The singing will be a feature that night. The meetings will not last long, so that interested folks should attend this week.

PYTHIAN SISTERS' BAZAR

On Friday evening, November 16, the Pythian Sisters will hold a bazar and dance at the K. P. hall, corner of Park avenue and Brand. Refreshments will be served during the evening. There will be number of booths for fancy work, candy, ice cream and others equally attractive. The music will be furnished by the Howdy Band of Los Angeles. Mrs. B. F. Cooke is chairman of the committee in charge of the affair.

FRENCH CLASSES

Elementary and advanced, organized under the University of California extension course and conducted by Louis F. D. Briois, will meet at the home of Mrs. C. M. Turk, 521 North Glendale avenue, every Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. No requirement for admission. The fee for a course of fifteen lessons of one hour each is $15. For further particulars communicate with Mrs. Turk, phone Sunset Glendale 1179. Tu, Thu, Fr.

Personals

Mrs. Nanno Woods has sent a check for $6 to the Glendale British Ambulance Society, being the proceeds of the French class for one month.

Miss Grace Utter of Covina spent Sunday with Glendale friends. She is a daughter of Elder J. W. Utter, formerly pastor of the Christian church here.

John Railsback, of 1615 West Seventh, who recently returned from Camp Kearny, Linda Vista, goes to work today for the Omaha Packing Company, Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Hayhurst, of 524 South Jackson, motored to Griffith Park on Sunday, driving on down to Los Angeles late in the afternoon to have dinner with friends.

The New Thought Bible class will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Carmack, 715 North Central avenue, Tropic, Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Everybody welcome.

Mrs. Ernest Laurance, of 430 Cedar street, who was called to Seattle by the severe illness of her sister, has been herself under the doctor's care ever since her return to Glendale last week.

The J. O. C. class of the First Methodist church of Glendale will hold its regular monthly business and social meeting this evening, November 6, at the home of Mrs. C. R. Lusby, 321 South Louise.

Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Zerr, of 413 Cedar street, spent the day on Sunday on a motor trip to Soledad Canyon with Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Cook of Hollywood. A picnic lunch was enjoyed at noon and a pleasant day was enjoyed.

Mr. Will Ford was a Saturday visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hendricks, 1102 1/2 West Broadway, from Camp Kearny, where he has been employed for the past several months in the work of construction.

The Brotherhood banquet will be held at the First M. E. church, corner Third and Kenwood, this evening at 6:30. All men of the church and friends are invited to come. There will be good eating, good speaking and good fellowship for all who come.

The Doran Street Parent-Teachers' Association will have a meeting on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the school. Mrs. Charles Toll will speak on "Ideals of the Home," and the Misses Esterly and Mottern will play a duet. The program will be worth while, and all are urged to be present.

Mr. Frederick F. Borncamp is here from Evanston, Ill., on a visit to his mother, Mrs. Edward Borncamp, and his sisters, who have recently come from there and are now living at 323 Orange street. He expects soon to leave for France. His brother, Robert, one of our Glendale boys, is now at Camp Kearny.

Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Smith are entertaining as their house guests Mr. and Mrs. Frank Parker and small son, Francis, from Omaha, Neb., who arrived on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Parker motored from their home, making the trip in three weeks. They are much pleased with Glendale and are considering making their home here through the winter.

Tonight Reynold E. Blight will deliver an address on "Ancient Masonry" at the Masonic Temple, following the regular business meeting. Mr. Blight needs no introduction, as he is well known as a brilliant orator, and the members of this lodge should be greatly honored by his visit. Following Mr. Blight's address the usual "feed" will be served, superintended by "Sunset" Deal.

Mr. and Mrs. Seymore Newton, both formerly of Glendale, motored down from their ranch at Patterson, Stanislaus county, with their two children, arriving in Glendale on Monday, where they expect to make quite a visit to Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Hedges, of 449 West Fifth street, parents of Mrs. Newton. They are taking dinner this evening with Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Zerr, of 413 Cedar street, who are old friends, all having been young people together in Glendale several years ago, before their marriage. Mrs. Newton and Mrs. Zerr both belonging to the X V I Club.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Wood, of 500 East Third street, are spending the week at Ventura and San Luis Obispo.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Fraser and two children, prosperous farmers from Mitchell, S. D., have arrived in Glendale and taken up residence at 1301 Lomita avenue. The Frasers are old acquaintances of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Van Alstine, of Riverside Drive.

Mrs. Stella B. Irvine of Riverside, state president of the W. C. T. U., and Mrs. Hattie Doughty, state superintendent of the Y. P. B., who are to be the speakers tonight at the open social meeting of the Y. P. B. at the Lutheran parsonage, are dinner guests of Mrs. G. H. Rowe at her home, 616 Orange street.

Milton Jobe and wife, who own and operate a large ranch near Corning, Cal., came down one day last week to visit Mrs. Jobe's brother, J. A. Killgore, 1607 Vine street. Their son later accompanied them to claim a bride in Hollywood. Mr. and Mrs. Jobe returned home today, but Lester and his new wife, after a brief honeymoon in San Diego, will return in the auto which he drove down here.

On Thursday the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs gave a beautiful party at the Odd Fellows' Hall, entertaining as their guests the lodges from San Fernando. Twelve tables of Halloween games were played, the first prize going to Miss Blanche Curtis and Mr. Bert Smith of San Fernando. The consolation prizes both went to the Fernando guests. The hall was elaborately decorated in Halloween effects and delicious refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Andrews, of 1552 Pioneer Drive, motored to Riverside one day last week and spent the day very agreeably at the Mission Inn, where Mr. Andrews listened to a lecture during the day on the subject of avocado culture, while Mrs. Andrews heard a talk on food conservation. Mr. Andrews has an interesting collection of trees on his beautiful grounds, including one of each kind of tree that will flourish on Southern California soil.

The Elks gave the last dance in their old building on Saturday evening. About a hundred people were present and enjoyed a very good time. The Imes orchestra of Los Angeles, with three pieces, furnished the music. The committee in charge were: Mr. J. H. Hearnshaw, chairman, and Dr. Flint, Mr. Gus Pulliam, Dr. Bryant and Mr. Berry. Dainty refreshments were served. During the evening several spot dances were given, with excellent boxes of candy for those drawing the lucky numbers. The evening was a marked success in every way.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Franklin, Mrs. Mabel Franklin Ocker, Mr. Blake Franklin and Miss Isabel Franklin motored down to Camp Kearny on Saturday and on down to San Diego, returning to Glendale Sunday evening. The party reported a splendid trip in every way, speaking in particular of the patriotic aspects of the San Diego streets, where something over 4000 soldier boys from Camp Kearney alone take their leave every day, besides the many sailor boys and those stationed at other nearby points—as at the aviation fields and Fort Rosecrans.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Davidson of Byron, Neb., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Hyatt, of 1634 West Broadway. Mr. Davidson is Mrs. Hyatt's brother. Mr. and Mrs. Davidson regret very much the fact that they are soon to leave for their home, where Mr. Davidson must look after business interests in connection with his 400-acre ranch. They left Nebraska on August 1 and have enjoyed an extended trip through the Northwest, visiting Mrs. Davidson's parents in Oakland for about a month, reaching Glendale about two weeks ago. They expect ultimately to make their home here.

Miss Gertrude and Charles Du Bois of Mexico, N. Y., who are niece and nephew of Mrs. A. M. Beamon, 245 South Maryland avenue, arrived on Monday to make their home with Mr. and Mrs. Beamon. Though Mrs. Beamon has planned for some time to have the young people with her because of the continued illness of their mother, she was agreeably surprised to find that they had come yesterday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Du Bois, of Long Beach, who were returning from Kansas City, Mo., where Mr. Du Bois has been taking treatments for some time in a sanitarium. He is fortunately much improved in health. The young people began work in the Glendale Union high school this morning.

Mrs. Ella Richardson and her son, Will, who is here for a short time before completing his arrangements for joining the aviation service, returned Monday evening from a motor trip to San Diego and the camps. The party, which included Mrs. John Bloeser of Los Angeles, left Glendale on Friday, expecting to visit Mrs. Bloeser's son, William, who was an ensign at San Diego, as well as to attend to Mr. Richardson's plans for his aviation work. On reaching their destination, however, they discovered that William Bloeser had been ordered to the Atlantic coast and had left for Los Angeles on that same day. His mother returned immediately by train, and Monday evening Mrs. Richardson and her son reached Glendale just in time to get down to Los Angeles and bid Mr. Bloeser farewell.

The Red Cross wishes ladies having odds and ends of bright colored Germantown yarns to bring them to the headquarters at 318 South Brand, next door to the postoffice, for the purpose of making knitted afghans for hospital use. These afghans will be made in six and one-half-inch squares, and later put together, and are intended to utilize yarn which can not be used in the making of sweaters, socks and other items of the kits. This new undertaking is in charge of Mrs. E. O. Moulton, of 920 Lomita, who will be at the headquarters on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Johnson, of 1010 Lomita, with their little son, George, returned on Monday afternoon after a week end trip to Santa Barbara by machine, coming home by the Santa Susanna pass, while the drive up was made by way of the Conejo grade. While in Santa Barbara they visited Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sutherland. Mrs. Sutherland is Mr. Johnson's sister. They arrived in time to see the great demonstration on Saturday morning, when 75 Liberty boys were escorted to the train with much pomp and ceremony by seemingly the whole population of Santa Barbara. On Sunday they attended a big soldiers' benefit at the athletic park, and report the northern city as being thoroughly roused to a demonstration of patriotism on every hand.

RECEPTION FOR PASTOR

On Friday evening about 125 members and friends of the West Glendale M. E. church gathered together at the reception given for the new pastor, Rev. E. M. Crandall, and his family. A short program was given, including a violin solo by Miss Tarling, two readings by Miss Evangeline Quackenbush, a Japanese love song by Miss Palmer, who appeared in a charming Japanese costume, and two vocal solos by Mrs. Calvin Whiting. Short addresses were given by Rev. Julius Soper, of the Casa Verdugo Methodist church; Rev. Dudley Snudden, of the Glendale First M. E. church, and Rev. E. C. Corey, of the Tropic M. E. church. The company then assembled in the Epworth League room, where refreshments of delicious home-made cakes and coffee were served. The ladies of the church plan another social for Friday, November 23.

KNITTING SOCKS

Click, click, click! how the needles go Through the busy fingers, to and fro—

With no bright colors of Berlin wool,
Delicate hands today are full;

Only a yarn of deep, dull blue,
Socks for the feet of the brave and true.

Yet click, click, how the needles go,
'Tis a power within that nerves them so.

In the sunny hours of the bright
spring day,
And still in the night time far away,

Maiden, mother and grandma sit
Earnest and thoughtful while they knit.

Many the silent prayer they pray,
Many the tear drops brushed away.

While busy on the needles go,
Widen and narrow, heel and toe.

The grandame thinks with a thrill of pride
How her mother knit and spun beside

For that patriot band in olden days
Who died the Stars and Stripes to raise—

Now she in turn knits for the brave
Who'd die that glorious flag to save.

She is glad, she says, "the boys" have gone,
'Tis just as their grandfathers would have done

But she heaved a sigh and the tears
will start,
For "the boys" were the pride of Grandma's heart.

The mother's look is calm and high,
God only hears her soul's deep cry—
up there.

In Freedom's name, at Freedom's
call,
She gave her sons—in them her all.

The maiden's cheek wears a paler
shade,
But the light in her eye is undis-
mayed.

Faith and hope give strength to her sight,
She sees a red dawn after the night.

Oh, soldiers brave, will it brighten
the day,
And shorten the march on the weary
way.

To know that at home the loving and true
Are knitting and hoping and praying
for you?

Soft are their voices when speaking
your name,
Proud are their glories when hearing
your fame,

And the gladdest hour in their lives
will be
When they greet you after the victory.

READY-MADE

The hand-made, finely tailored uniform is losing out in the army. Once considered de rigeur in certain military units composed of the socially elect, it has received the cold shoulder of disapprobation at the army cantonment at Wrightstown in such a definite manner as to forecast its permanent banishment.

The seal of disapproval did not come from the government, but from a recruit serving in the draft army
as a private in the 113th infantry.
Young Kingdon Gould robbed Uncle Sam of his services long enough to chase away a tailor who came unbidden to take his measure for a better fitting uniform than the one he was wearing, which happened to be one of the regulation, machine made fighting suits supplied by the government. The tailor insisted upon fulfilling his mission until, according to press reports, Gould was forced to "shoo" him out of the camp—a form of ejectment sufficiently severe, in view of the non-military nature of the attack.

There was a time when tailors were an important adjunct to the equipment of many military organizations.

Who does not remember the tailored excellence of the First city troop,
the Richmond Blues, the Boston Cadets and some of the New York companies? But this is war. The very men who, in years ago, carried their elaborate uniforms most jauntily today are lying out in improvised shell
holes and trenches in army camps,
mud caked, dust covered and rain soaked, preparing themselves for the plunge into the Great Adventure soon to come. Needless to say, the tailored equipment long ago has gone
the way of the dress clothes and the high hat.

The ancient Chinese believed in "dressing" for battle, and decorated themselves accordingly. The custom came down through the horn helmets
of the Norsemen and the hideous painting of the American Indians. In this war, however, it is not probable that the Germans would notice the distinction created by a finely tailored shoulder, nor that they would become alarmed if they did. The least that may be said of young Gould's
shooting is that it will tend to clinch
the style among others of the nation's gilded youth for the ready-to-wear garments furnished by Uncle Sam.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

VIOLIN USED TO CATCH FISH

"They have a new wrinkle for catching fish at Elmer, Mo., and it is wonderful the luck they have," Alva Willoughby, circuit clerk, remarked, swapping experiences at the courthouse. "About fifteen of us pitched camp on a lake north of town, and then set lines across zigzag, like German entanglements, you know. When all was ready, the fiddler sat on a log and played 'The Arkansas Traveler' and other classics. And you ought to have seen the fish come in! By noon
we had more than the party could eat. They tell me they always take a fiddler along when they go fishing
up there."

"I see," County Clerk Sears said.
"The music charms them, and they go blindly toward it and are caught on the lines."

"Not exactly," Willoughby replied.
"You see, we put the musician at the other end of the lake, and in paddling
to get away from the noise the fish run into the hooks."

"THE RICH MAN'S WAR"

Did J. P. Morgan bring on this war so that his only son could join the navy and offer his life for his country? Did Henry P. Davidson, who is devoting his energies without charge to the administration of the Red Cross, bring on the war so that his only son could enter the aviation service of his country? Did Cornelius Vanderbilt bring on the war so that he and his son could serve in the army that will soon go to France? Did George Gould bring on the war so that his sons could be drafted into the national army?

It is one of the main stock arguments of pro-German propagandists that this is a rich man's war. When the war is over and the assay of service given to the nation is made, men of wealth will hold a place in public recognition of patriotism second only to that occupied by the fighting forces. Novel and deep respect for the love of country displayed by certain rich men—and a great array of them—will be one of the denite results of the war.—Greenville (Mass.)
News.

A PSYCHOLOGICAL MOMENT IN THE AIR

Flying low over the German lines,
a British aviator was soon in the midst of a whining swarm of German bullets. The Germans in the trenches were firing straight up, hoping to wing the flier or pierce his gasoline tank. The aviator—a cool youngster —looked down, saw a bullet slowly ascend the last few feet of its maximum height. It stopped dead still for the smallest fraction of a second.
The aviator reached quickly, grabbed the bullet and put it in his pocket.—
Pall Mall Gazette, London.

the meaning of ostentation?
Paw—Ostentation, son, is a way
the neighbors have of showing off.—

SERVICE FLAG

home of Mr. and Mrs. Irving H. Oliver, 647 East Acacia avenue, this emblem has been displayed for the past eight months, originally with one star in honor of Mrs. Oliver's brother, Dr. H. D. Lytle, now first lieutenant "somewhere in France," and later with an added star for Second Lieutenant Herbert G. Lytle, another brother, of the 364th Infantry, now
at American Lake. Mr. Oliver claims this to be the first service flag
shown in Glendale.

Mrs. Don Wells, of 328 South Maryland street, has had her service flag
out since October 6 for her son, Neal, now at Presidio, Texas, who is in Troop I, Eighth Cavalry, and who is,
as far as she has been able to determine, the youngest boy to enlist from Glendale. He was sixteen when he volunteered last spring.

Mrs. Ella Richardson, of 805
South Central avenue, claims additional distinction for the beautiful flag with which she was presented last Thursday by the Thursday Afternoon Club of Tropic in a beautiful speech by Capt. Fels, a fine old Civil war veteran, because the two stars which it bears so proudly are each for a boy born on Glendale soil. They are Omar Burt Richardson, who has been in France since May, having left with the Yale ambulance corps and enlisting on French soil to fight under a French captain, and Will Richardson, who is at present in Glendale on an extension of time
while he closes his affairs preparatory to joining the aviation service.

Six Glendale boys for whom the service flags already fly in their home town are now en route to France, having left Camp Mills on Long Island about two weeks ago. They are:
Holman Midcalf, 344 Orange
street, 117th Engineers, Company D.
Stanley Gorman, 1007 West Fifth, 117th Engineers, Company F.
Frederick Burt, 1020 North Central, 117th Engineers, Company F.
Hugh Freeman, 1517 Sycamore
avenue, 117th Engineers, Company F.
Ed Sadler, 1454 West Seventh
street, 117th Engineers, Company F.
Douglas Bolthuis, 1532 West First
street, 117th Engineers, Company F.
The other boys, so far as known,
who have stars displayed for them
on service flags in Glendale homes
are:

Owen C. Emery, 117 South Kenwood, Camp Lewis, American Lake.
Lester Meyer, 1016 Maple avenue,
Aviation Corps, Berkeley.

Howard McGillis, 205 Lomita avenue, 9 Company, C. A. C., San Pedro.
Hill McGillis, 205 Lomita avenue,
American Lake.

George Marsh, 1109 San Raphael,
navy (now in South America).

Guy Pixley, 1216 Lomita avenue,
Ambulance Company 158, Camp
Kearney.

Merle Eckles, 1125 North Central,
Battery A, Field Artillery, Presidio.
Ralph Carmichael, 433 Cedar street, Company 9, C. A. C., San Pedro.

Howard Bradley, 1631 Oak street,
Marines, San Diego.

Morris Jackson, 1416 Milford, Marines, San Diego.

Carleton Padelford, Dolly Varden,
Company 9, C. A. C., Fort McArthur.
Norman Otis, 411 Brand boulevard,
Navy, Mare Island.

John A. Bertelsen, 128 South Jackson, Company 6, C. A. C., Fort Mc-Arthur.

Harold P. Bertelsen, 128 South
Jackson, Navy, Goat Island, San Francisco.

Rowland Walters, 136 Elrose avenue, Navy, S. S. Cincinnati.

Don Packer, 1462 Riverdale Drive,
Company 9, C. A. C., Fort McArthur.
James Lyons, 911 Maple, Ambulance Corps, Linda Vista.

Ed Sadler, 1005 West Broadway, 117th Engineers' Corps (on way to France).

Kenneth Current, 306 East Broadway, Company 10, C. A. C., Fort Mc-Arthur.

John Current, 306 East Broadway,
Marines, Mare Island.

Charles Fromm, 249 East Third street, Navy, U. S. S. Brooklyn, flagship of Asiatic fleet.

The Glendale Union high school
also contemplates displaying a service flag in the near future.

For those who have not seen the beautiful service flag, it may be explained that the background is red,
entirely surrounding the lengthwise
stripe of white which bears the stars in blue. While the sight of it is an inspiring and a stirring one, there is a hope in every heart that it will not long float anywhere in America, but will be wholly displaced by grand Old Glory flying free.

DOUGHLESS DAYS

Oh, Hoover, meatless days I've met;
'Tis meet to say it loud;
On breadless days I never fret,
I'm poor but awful proud.
I run a weekly paper here,
Subscriptions come in slow;
I'll do my bit, oh never fear,
And do without the dough.
—Hollywood Inquirer.

SHOPS BEHIND THE FRONT

Announcement has been made that Horace De Lissier, of the Ajax Rubber Company, has been appointed to the "business men's staff" of General Pershing with the rank of major, to help construct 15 miles of factories
behind the firing lines in France.
These factories will furnish the army with field equipment which can be manufactured abroad more expeditiously than it can be imported.

FROM THE WAR ZONE

lows about me pleasantly and laughingly offering their lives for the cause. It is a great privilege to be allowed to have such associates, I think.

My address in England is Private Wellington Rupp, Aviation Section,
S. E. R. G., U. S. Army, care American Ambassador, London, England.
Write when you can. How are you getting along? Best regards to all.
I did not hear from you before I left.

Your nephew,
WELLINGTON.
P. S.—There are ten ships in our convoy, and it is an interesting sight
to watch the other big ships plowing
through the waves.

Dear Aunt Rae:
Arrived here four days ago, but could not mail this. Came across from Liverpool by train to South Hampton to an American camp. We should have gone on over to France
at once, but were delayed by orders from Washington being lost. Will go up to London tomorrow and get the mail and then go across the next day if there are no more accidents. I am feeling fine, but not overeating.
Much rain and mud. We are in tents.
With love, your nephew,
WELLINGTON.

EXCELLENT OPPORTUNITY

Los Angeles, Cal.,
October 20, 1917.
From Recruiting Office Signal Corps
to Subject, 115th Field Battalion, Signal Corps, Camp Kearney:

1. Your name appears as next up on the draft list for service.

2. There is now being organized at Camp Kearney a company of the signal corps to complete the organization of the 115th Field Battalion.

Your home being in Los Angeles and vicinity, this opportunity is given you to enlist in an organization that will be trained in your locality. Liberties are granted Wednesday afternoon and over Saturday and Sunday, so that those who wish will have plenty of opportunity for week-end visits. It is not expected that the entire number of experienced electrical workers can be enlisted, so that it will be necessary to take men without these qualifications and train them. The vacancies are privates, corporals, sergeants, sergeants first class and master signal electricians, the pay from $30 to $81 a month and everything furnished, with 20 per cent added for foreign service, should you be ordered out of the country.

3. This opportunity is given you to enlist before being ordered up on the draft.

4. The signal corps is a communicating and not a fighting organization, and is considered an exceptionally fine branch of the service.

5. If interested, apply at the temporary recruiting office of the signal corps, 902 South Main street, Los Angeles, Cal., where full information on this subject will be given.

R. J. WALTERS, M. S. E.,
In Charge of Recruiting.

PATRIOTIC

"I'm thinking seriously of offering
my motor boat to the United States government."

"Do you mean that boat you had me out in last summer when the engine stopped and we had to row ten miles back?"

"Yes, that's the one."

"Well, if you want to do your country a service you ought to give that boat to the Germans."—Exchange.

In the daily routine of life you ask of those with whom you come in contact both honesty and fairness of treatment.

More so, than ever, do you need such help during the sorrows of bereavement. Then, as at no other time, you ask and have a right to expect conscientious service—the kind "you" yourself
would give were you able to do so.

You ask and expect an impressive service, free
of needless expense, yet fitting the occasion.

In using Scovern-Letton-Frey Co. service either in our mortuary, at the church or in your own home, you will find all these requirements met—quietly, restfully and in good taste.

The American Library Association
is now conducting a campaign for the collection of funds to be used for the erection of library building at each of the camps and cantonments
in this country and for the purchase of books which will be required in addition to those old books which will be collected by all of the public libraries throughout the country.

I am advising the chapters of this fact, so that in case you should have any inquiries as to what use to make of old books by people anxious to donate them for the use of our soldiers and sailors, it would be proper to suggest that the books be turned in to the nearest public library, as the libraries have received instructions
from the American Library Association as to just what to do with such books.
